

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

My research is a process of documenting the Dalit Women life world. This is a unique initiative for writing Dalit Women history in the Feminist frames i.e. Dalit Feminism and it was a very enlightening one. It makes me able to sense the voices of the society. I had moment of joy and happiness during the period of this research. It is a very good learning experience for me.

I wish to thank Prof. Shura Darapuri, for her scholarly guidance for my research. I get best themes and approaches with a great progressive perspective from her to document this research. Her scholarly supervision has been the dynamic force behind all my effort in giving shape to this thesis. I express my special thanks to Prof. S V Babu for his valuable academic and administrative support. I would like to thank Dr. V M Ravikumar for his intellectual encouragement. I am obliged to Mr. B N Prasad, Dr Siddharth Shankar Rai and Dr. Renu Pandey, Department of History, BBAU, for encouraging me during my research. I am grateful to Prof. Y Chinna Rao for his intellectual support. I thank Mr. Sheikh Mahboob Basha for encouraging me for study. All my faculties have enriched my research by their valuable ideas and thoughts; these shaped my writing in a very precious way. The active research experience of my faculties and their kind support has made this research possible.

I also express my thanks to my friends and colleague research scholars Pankaj Kumar, Chandrasekhar Sahai, Andrey, Arvind Swaroop, Arun Kumar Verma, Firduas Malik, Pawan Kumar, Shiv Yadav; Senior Scholars Dr. Dharmendra Kumar Verma, Dr. Ajit Kumar Rao, Dr. Meera, Late Dr. Shailesh Tripathi, Dr. Swati Shastri, Dr. Archana Pandey, Dr. Fayaz Ahmad Kotay, Dr. Ram Prakash and young and eager minds of Department of History for their kind support. I thank the office Staff Ms. Reema Hanson, Mr. Maya Ram and Mr. Neeraj Kumar for their cooperation in the Department.

I can't express in words my indebtedness to my grandmother Late Dhanji Devi, who nurtured me from the very beginning and taught me the first lesson of life. She guided me to develop my personality and source of my all inspirations as a researcher. I learnt the basic idea's for inclusive thoughts from my father Late Sukha Lal Ram. My mother Sudami Devi, brother's Deepak Kumar, Dinesh Kumar and sister's Sangeeta Devi, Jyoti Kumari supported me a lot during my toiling hours of research work. I thank Mr. Ramsukh Prakash and Late Bashistha Ram for supporting and encouraging me during my study. I cannot forget the kind and generous support of Mr. Devachandra Ram and his family as my guardian and well-wishers in Lucknow.

Here, I also take an opportunity to acknowledge the support rendered by Dalit women who frequently responded on the issues of Social status, occupational mobility, political consciousness, education, social exclusion and oral folk tradition in the selected area of study. These responses enabled me to explore social history of Dalit women and their lived past and present.

I am extremely grateful to the official staff, Government of Uttar Pradesh for their kind support in making the data available to me like official papers about villages and blocks. I also feel highly obliged towards Mr Vinod Kumar (Village Development officer), and Mr Vijay Prasad (Village Development officer), at Mehanagar and Martigunj Blocks as well as Tahsils respectively in Azamgarh District of Eastern U.P. commonly known as Purvanchal, for their support. Along with this, I pay my gratitude to Mr. Pyare Lal Chaudhary (Assistant Block Development officer), Biswan Block in Biswan Tahsil, and Mr. Rambalak (Assistant Block Development officer), Sidhauri Block in Sidhauri Tahsil of Sitapur district in Middle U.P., popularly known as Awadh, for providing me the documents related to .

I am thankful to the staff of National Archives New Delhi, Royal Asiatic Society Archives Kolkata, Uttar Pradesh State Archives Lucknow and Allahabad Regional Archives for their valuable support for searching the Archival sources. I express my special thanks to Librarian Dr. Sunil Gorla, Assistant Librarian Mr. Nitesh Verma and the staff of Gautam Buddha Central Library of Babasaheb Bhimrao Ambedkar University for their kind help and support. I express my thanks to the library staff of Nehru Memorial Museum and library; Central Library, JNU, New Delhi; Central Library, Indian Institute of Advanced Studies, Rashtrapati Nivas Shimla; Central Library, Central University of Gujarat; Tagore Library University of Lucknow; Ammirudaulla Library; Acharya Narendra Dev Library; Baudha Shanti Upavan Library Lucknow and Dalit Resource Centre, G B Pant Institute of Social Sciences Allahabad for their co-operation in searching the useful material for the completion of this thesis.

Finally, I express my deep sense of gratitude to my friends for helping me and encouraging me from time to time in finishing this research work.

Santosh Kumar